

Prof. PhDr. Dušan Lužný, Dr.

He studied sociology at Masaryk University in Brno. He has been studying the processes of modernisation in relation to religion in a global context for a long time. His research field connects sociology, cultural anthropology and religious studies. He has conducted a number of empirical investigations in Europe (Czech Republic, Slovakia, Ireland), Asia (India, Papua New Guinea, Vietnam, Philippines) and in the USA. During his academic career, he has held various managerial positions: in 2001–2006 he was the Head of the Institute of Religious Studies at Masaryk University; in 2012–2019 he was the Head of the Department of Sociology, Andragogy and Cultural Anthropology at Palacký University Olomouc; in 2021–2022 he was the Vice-Rector for Doctoral Studies at Palacký University Olomouc. In 2006–2009, he worked for the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sports as an advisor and then as a deputy minister. In 2011–2016, he was a member of the permanent group of the Accreditation Commission of the Czech Republic for Social Sciences, and in 2016–2020 a member of the Council of the National Accreditation Office of the Czech Republic. Currently, he is a member of the evaluation committees of the Czech National Accreditation Office and the Slovak Accreditation Agency. He leads the study programme Management of Science at Palacký University Olomouc.

Mgr. Dana Bilíková

She studied Adult Education and English Philology at the Faculty of Arts of Palacký University Olomouc, she graduated with a Master's degree. Since 2013, she has been the director of the Institute of Lifelong Learning at the Faculty of Arts of Palacký University. In 2014–2022, she held a position of Vice-Dean for Project Management at the Faculty of Arts, and for two years she led the Department for Doctoral Studies at the Rector's Office at Palacký University. In 2022, she joined the team of the Minister for Science, Research and Innovation of the Czech Republic at the Office of the Government of the Czech Republic as an advisor.

Contemporarily, she evaluates projects of applied research in social sciences and humanities for Technology Agency of the Czech Republic, and the projects of research and management of universities – projects funded by structural funds of Ministry of Education, Youth and Sports. She is a member of several working groups and commissions at the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sports and Technology Agency of the Czech Republic.

At the Faculty of Arts in Olomouc, she founded the study programme Management of Science, where she teaches Project Management and Professional Practice. She is an assistant professor at the Department of Sociology, Andragogy and Cultural Anthropology and a student of the Andragogy PhD programme.

Mgr. et Mgr. Terezie Řezníčková, Ph.D.

She studied philosophy and history at the Faculty of Arts of Palacký University Olomouc, and graduated with a Bachelor's degree. She then completed her two Master's degrees, in History and in Law at the Faculty of Law of Palacký University. She finished her doctoral studies in the field of history with an interdisciplinary focus on law in 2022, the topic of her dissertation is The question of continuity of Roman law between the 6th and 12th centuries in the Apennine Peninsula. During her studies, she took part in several research stays in Florence, Italy.

She has been working as a project administrator at the Faculty of Arts of Palacký University since 2017. At the same time, for two years she worked as a coordinator at the Department for Doctoral Studies at the Rector's Office of Palacký University. Now she works as a project manager at the University Project Service in Olomouc.

She teaches the courses of Legal Aspects of Science and Research II, which includes Administrative Law, Financial Law and Intellectual Property Law.